RESPONDENT.

RECEIVED

AZ CORP COMMISSION
DOCKET CONTROL

On the 29th day of October 2013, Belinda A. Martin issued an order placing Procedural Law as a law primary to Substantive Law. She issued an order, stating that only procedural matters were to be discussed. In her order, she stated that no Substantive issues of law were to be discussed. The primary issues in this case are Substantive Law issues.

They are:

1. Arizona Administrative Code R14-2-211 (A) (5) (6)
2. Arizona Administrative Code R14-2-202 (B) (1) (2)
3. Arizona Administrative Code R14-2-208 (A) (1) and (F) (1)

Substantive Law is the statutory or written law. It is codified in legislated statutes or can be enacted through the initiative process. In the Arizona Declaration of Rights,

1 Article II Section 3 Supreme Law of the Land. It claims that the 2 Constitution of the United States is the Supreme Law of the 3 Land. That law is noted as Common Law and referred to as 4 Substantive Law. Substantive Law is defined as the law that is 5 the governing law of the citizens.

6 Procedural Law is created by people in the legal industry.
7 Citizens of the State of Arizona do not have any input in the 8 creation of Procedural Law. In most cases, Procedural Law does 9 not address the rights of citizens. Procedural Law does not 10 protect the rights nor the liberties of the people of the State
11 of Arizona.

12 Procedural Laws do extend and create powers for judges and 13 attorneys. These people are not elected by citizens and many 14 times their actions are for income purposes or other unspoken
15 purposes. In many cases, Procedural Law promotes corruption. It 16 creates procedures that require a legal representative to be 17 hired from the legal industry. Some Procedural Laws are used by 18 corrupt individuals in the legal industries to create large fees 19 by generating frivolous filings and hearings that strip the 20 citizens of their rights to justice. Most Procedural Laws cause
21 extreme burdens on the citizens. Citizens are becoming so
22 burdened with the cost of the large amount of Procedural Laws
23 that the citizens will not be able to pay for judge's salaries
24 or support the ongoing pension plan for government workers.
25 These are just a few of the effects that are occurring in our 26 society because of increasing numbers of Procedure Laws. One of 27 many web sites located on the internet that support these facts 28 and issues, is
29 legaldictionary.thefreedictionary/Substantive+law.

1                   RIGHTS GUARANTEED TO CITIZENS IN FOUNDING DOCUMENTS

3           The founding documents outline rights of Due Process of 4 Law, these documents proclaim the law of the land, they speak of 5 treason (when someone in the government or a large group in a 6 government agency abandons principals outlined in founding
7 documents) the penalty for this action is death.

8           The Citizens recognize the founding documents, known as The 9 Declaration of Independence. This document was adopted in 10 Congress on July 4, 1776. This day is celebrated each year, so 11 everyone knows that in the past there was a destructive
12 government on this land. This document shares things that a 13 destructive government agency might do to take and obstruct 14 citizens' liberties and rights from them. The governed can take 15 governing powers from a destructive agency and abolish it.

16           When a governing agency abandons or obstructs justice or 17 fails to conduct its responsibilities to provide safe electrical 18 conduction in all parts of the state, this agency then becomes 19 destructive to the lives of the citizens. It creates a high risk 20 of corruption entering into the system, which take citizens' 21 liberty from them and it builds the cost of maintaining 22 government, which reduces the standard of living of the citizens 23 of the state.

24           The citizens of the State of Arizona are peaceful and 25 educated and have the right to request the State Legislature to 26 create a bill to abolish the present Arizona Corporation
27 Commission. The governed, under The Declaration of Independence, 28 which was Adopted in Congress on July 4, 1776, gives the 29 governed the right to demand their elected officials to cancel
30 all state support checks issued by the State. The governed can 31 demand that the employees be discharged without severance pay,
32

1 cancel all forms of entitled retirement pay. This bill may not 2 be limited to the forgoing.

3 The facts support the claim that Substantive law is the 4 Supreme Law of the land. If any personnel of the Arizona
5 Corporation Commission support any other law or any other form 6 of law, this action gives the citizens the right to request the 7 abolishment of the Arizona Corporation Commission.

8 A motion has be entered to only perform judicial duties on 9 Substantive Law and on the three Substantive Laws that are in 10 the enforcement order.
